Waikato Kendo Club

Waikato Kendo Club is a non-profit organisation established by Sam Tsai and Marleen Charng in March 1999 as the fifth All New Zealand Kendo Federation (NZKF) affiliated club. Kendo literally means "the way or the sword" and is a traditional Japanese martial art with an ancient history based in the culture of the Samurai warrior. The concept of Kendo is to discipline the human character through the application of the principals of the Katana (sword). Promoting friendship through Kendo and enhancing members' physical and mental well-being are Club's basic philosophy. Beginners are always welcome.

Young Workers' Resource Centre

YWRC is a non-profit organisation that works to provide information and resources to young people and their families about their rights and obligations in the workplace. We aim to increase awareness about what young people can do to prevent or deal with problems at work. We also offer workshops on a range of different employment issues such as minimum rights, employment agreements, health and safety at work, unlawful discrimination and sexual harassment. We are more than happy to tailor our workshops to suit the needs of participants. We also offer pamphlets, booklet, and drop-in-centre for advice, resources, or referrals.
