Kia ora,

Further to your information request of 11 March 2019 in respect of Hamilton flood maps, I am now able to provide Hamilton City Council's response.

You requested:

Would I please be able to request any floodmaps for Hamilton that you may have, in the form of a shapefile? I understand that many councils produce 1 in 100 year floodmaps, and some also produce 1 in 50 and 1 in 200 year floodmaps. Any of those that you may have would be greatly appreciated.

Our response:

As per our phone discussion seeking clarification about the data you seek, the One in 100 year flood hazard data is as per the Hamilton City Council Operative District Plan.

As the data sets are a large file, these can be downloaded from here. These files are in GIS shape file format and will be available for two weeks.

Further technical reports supporting flood hazard mapping and modelling can be found on the Council's Flood Hazard Information webpage here.

A Digital Data Agreement for the supplied data is included below (note below icon is a link).

This data is made available under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License (CC BY 4.0). Under this license you are free to copy, distribute, and adapt the work. You must however attribute the work to the data owners and abide by the license terms and conditions. You acknowledge and agree that by accepting this data you are bound by the CC BY 4.0 terms and the conditions of use.

DISCLAIMER: Whilst Hamilton City Council has exercised all reasonable skill and care in controlling the contents of the information contained in this data, Hamilton City Council accepts no liability whatsoever in contract, tort or otherwise howsoever, for any loss, damage, injury or expense (whether direct, indirect or consequential) arising out of the provision of this data or its use by you.

Kind regards,

Good morning [REDACTED]

Your request will need to be formalised by way of a LGOIMA through our Governance team who I have included in this email.

The reason for this is the Flood Mapping will have associated disclaimers to the data which Council will need to understand how this mapping will be used by your consulting firm.

Kind regards
