Kia ora,

Further to your request received on 24 July 2019 in respect of infringement notices – current vehicle licences, I am now able to provide Hamilton City Council’s response.

You requested:

“Would you be able to provide me what data you have readily available on the number of infringements notices or tickets that your parking wardens (or other staff) have issued to vehicles each year for not having a current vehicle licence (also called ‘rego’)?”

Our response:

The chart below shows three full years data for these infringements, and warnings, as requested, and the current calendar year to date figures.

We issue both warnings to advise customers of recent “Rego” lapses (less than one month expired) and live infringements, and the totals of these are included in the following table:

Year	Live Infringements		Warning Tickets
	Offence	Issued	Issued
2016	P411	5436	3321
2017	P411	4691	3284
2018	P411	4590	3360
2019 YTD	P411	2722	1843

Kind regards,

Amy Viggers

Hello there

Would you be able to provide me what data you have readily available on the number of infringements notices or tickets that your parking wardens (or other staff) have issued to vehicles each year for not having a current vehicle licence (also called 'rego')? Great if you already have the data available, could you point me in the direction of the info?

Kindest regards
